Course content: Describe briefly the subject and the learning goals agreed upon by the Student and the Dean. You do not need to tell us on this form how this independent study is relevant to your eventual thesis project, but you may wish to be thinking about this as you prepare your proposal.

Evaluation and Due Dates: List all books to be read (make sure you have at least 1500 pages), work assignments and due dates agreed upon by the Student and the Dean. Keep in mind that the most important date is when you plan to finish. This is the date upon which grades, fees and administrative dates will be operative. Be realistic so that you will not have to pay incomplete fees, or even withdraw; abide by the dates you declare on this form.
